6. (Unclassified - GLC) Called Mrs. Irene Margolis, Editorial Assistant, Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, about her inquiry to

[redacted] OGC, for copies of papers written by [redacted]

[redacted] In response to my query, Mrs. Margolis said she was doing research on espionage laws and her attention had been directed to these two publications. She said she was doing this in connection with the Subcommittee plans for hearings next week on the Administration's bill to revise Title 18 of the U.S. Code as proposed by S. 1400. I told her we would get copies of the unclassified studies she had requested tomorrow.

7. (Internal Use Only - LLM) Yesterday in closing out an inquiry from Robert Hull, Department of State, he mentioned the possibility of a legislative proposal to make compensable disability incurred by dependents of Foreign Service personnel stationed abroad resulting from terroristic activities. Apparently Department of Labor rejected the idea of adding the benefit onto their program and the Civil Service Commission, while sympathetic, was not willing to push. Hull thought the authority might repose in the Secretary of State and was hopeful of possible action as a rider to legislation to provide armored cars and other protection for certain overseas posts. Hull promised to keep us advised of any progress.

[redacted] Personnel, was advised.
